

from hollywoodlife.com

New Guess girl

Jennifer Lopez is now the model in a new ad campaign for Guess jeans and looks great.

The Bronx-born triple threat, 48, posted the photo for the campaign, shot by Tatiana Gerusova, in the form of nine photos on her Instagram grid on Sunday.

Upon landing the Guess girl gig, Lopez — who looks half her age in the images — said in a statement: “When I got the call from [Guess co-founder] Paul Marciano asking me to become the new Guess girl, I was thrilled and excited to be a part of such an iconic brand that I have loved since I was a teenager.”

Jennifer Lopez

Beachy keen

Miley Cyrus, 25, looked relaxed and comfortable as she frolicked on the beach in Byron Bay, Australia, with fiancé Liam Hemsworth, 28, on Monday. In the photos that were posted online, the couple is shown horsing around in the water and bodyboarding. They were also caught holding hands while walking back into the surf after spending some time sunning on the beach.

Still no word on when they'll finally take their walk down the aisle, though they've been engaged — for the second time — for nearly two years.

Do Dakota Johnson, left, and Chris Martin make a cute couple? Go to hollywoodlife.com and let us know.

NEWSDAY / THOMAS A. FERRARA

My Father's Place acts

First performers set to play revived Roslyn club starting June 30

BY GLENN GAMBOA

glenn.gamboa@newsday.com

Garland Jeffreys, Livingston Taylor, The Blasters and blues great John Hammond will be among the first acts to play My Father's Place at The Roslyn Hotel when it opens in late June.

The artists for a special grand opening concert have yet to be announced.

My Father's Place brought the likes of Bruce Springsteen, the Ramones, Bob Marley and U2 to Roslyn for more than a decade thanks to founder Michael “Eppy” Epstein. After it closed in 1987, Epstein vowed he would never open another club unless it was in Roslyn, though he did promote shows across Long Island.

With My Father's Place at The Roslyn Hotel, Epstein hopes to cater to fans of the original venue, as well as new fans. “It’s a continuation of the business,” Epstein told Newsday in November. “If you were 18 when you went to My Father's Place, you're 50-something or 60-something now and you want a place with a nice tablecloth, a nice chair and an intimate concert performance.”

The first shows planned for the new My Father's Place, which will be a supper club with a capacity for 200 and a separate, smaller stage for up-and-coming acts, reflect that idea. Jeffreys, The Blasters, and Hammond all played the original club, as did Taylor, Roomful of Blues and NRBQ, who will all play in the new club's opening weeks. Robert Gordon, who will play the new club on July 7, even released an album “Live from My Father's Place.”

Tickets for all the shows go on sale at 10 a.m. Friday through myfathersplace.com. Those who join the Friends of My Father's Place Club, for a $50 membership fee, can purchase presale tickets on Wednesday.

The current schedule

Livingston Taylor	JUNE 30
Roomful of Blues	JULY 1
Robert Gordon	JULY 7
John Hammond	JULY 13
Garland Jeffreys & Frank Carillo	JULY 14
Spyro Gyra	JULY 21
NRBQ	JULY 27
Arlen Roth Guitar Summit	JULY 28
The Blasters	AUG. 11
Kerry Kearney Blues Extravaganza	AUG. 18

Garland Jeffreys will be among the first to play at the new My Father's Place at The Roslyn Hotel.

hot
date

FEB. 27

‘Murder on the Orient Express,’ starring and directed by Kenneth Branagh as fictional detective Hercule Poirot, comes out on DVD and Blu-ray. The digital download is available Feb. 20.